

Hawan and Prayer & Imparting Indian Knowledge Systems

From day one, AKMV has ventured to inculcate in its students and employees values and principles of Arya Samaj as propounded by Swami Dayananda Saraswati. While advocating the social and religious ideals of Arya Samaj, we at AKMV, Shahabad Markanda provide a distinctive environment that supports heritage and cultural values of positive karma and social commitment. Over the years Hawan and Prayer have evolved as a distinct feature of AKMV. Each session starts with the paying obeisance to values and principles of Arya Samaj and performing a Yagna/ Hawan in which all, members of Governing Body, teachers, staff and students, participate. Mantras, as per Vedic tradition are chanted that create peace and serenity in the entire atmosphere. Every Monday, Prayer is performed in which all teachers, staff and students participate. Such a practice prepares strong minded, strong willed and grounded individuals that are required for a competent and progressive world. Understanding the need for sustainable practices, holistic education, and ethical frameworks ingrained in Indian Knowledge Traditions and their contemporary relevance exclusive time is devoted in the college to impart knowledge from IKS. Rallies, Outreach Programmes, competitions, and extension lectures are organised to revive insights, raise awareness, and educate communities.
